Survivor services in 24 counties

★ Field office

The CWS NorCal Anti-Trafficking services provides intensive case management to survivors of human trafficking, as well as training and outreach to increase awareness and identification of survivors. Our goal is to help survivors regain control of their lives while finding their voices through a continuum of trauma-informed, culturally relevant, and gender responsive services to ensure their safety, security, and healing.

What We Do

Through utilizing a trauma-informed, survivor led, victim centered approach, the CWS Anti-Trafficking program provides free, confidential intensive case management services and direct assistance to all survivors, regardless of age, gender, nationality, and visa status. Services are available throughout 24 counties of Northern California.

Training and Outreach

CWS NorCal brings a new perspective to safeguarding training because our training starts from the survivor perspective. With survivor-led presentations, training, and technical assistance, the Training team aims to educate individuals and agencies on the subject of human trafficking, as well as train organizations to better respond to and serve survivors.
